

Attorneys in other states have reported emails allegedly from disciplinary authorities which contain ransomware. The Office of Lawyers Professional Responsibility does not initiate investigations by email. As always, do not open emails from unknown or unexpected sources.